About CBFA Goat Banking

The CBFA Goat Banking Program is a unique opportunity to participate in agriculture, even if you don't own land. Designed to support economic empowerment and food sovereignty in Black, African, and Caribbean communities, this program allows members to invest in livestock ownership while we take care of the farming.

How It Works:

Initial Investment:

$1,000 gives you shared ownership of a female goat housed and cared for at one of our CBFA farm locations.

Renewal Participation:

$1000 renewal fee every two years to stay in the program.

Births are shared equally between CBFA and the investor.

Why Join?

1.

No farmland needed, we take care of your goat.

2.

Grow your livestock portfolio over time.

3.

Support community food systems and Black agricultural empowerment.

4.

Build generational wealth through agriculture.

How To Get Started:

1. Become a CBFA Member, visit: canadianblackfarmers.ca/join
2. Once your membership is confirmed, send an email to info@canadianblackfarmers.ca to request an intro call and begin your Goat Banking journey.

This program is fluid, please stay in touch for updates and changes.
